Retractable Roof Systems

If you are looking to use your patio area for much longer periods of the year, a retractable roof system is a great investment. The textile weather roofs provide for an especially generous projection no matter how wide the unit may be, built with durable posts which offer high stability and wind resistance.

You can also transform our retractable roof system* into a superb outdoor living space with our available options such as vertical awnings, fixed glass elements, sliding doors, LED lighting and heating. This superb system is extremely versatile and allows you to vary the protection and shading of your patio.

Glass Patio Roofs

Our glass patio roof system is a stunning solution to outdoor living. The system simply bolts onto the wall and no foundations are required, furthermore in many cases planning permission is not required.

It is a modular installation which means once the roof is installed, additional elements of vertical awnings, fixed or sliding doors, lighting and heating can be added.

Glass Roof Awnings

Our roof-mounted awnings are designed to provide you with control in shading your glass roof or conservatory roof. The system prevents excessive heat and creates a pleasant environment immediately adjacent to your interior conservatories.

The option of either under-mounted conservatory shading or a conservatory top awning, it's a place to relax in the cool and shade.

The system also lends itself perfectly as a retractable roof for a free standing timber or steel framed structures.
